

What could you say if you wanted to join some others at recess?

What could you say to include someone else at lunch?

How can you respond in a respectful way if someone asks you to play, but you don't want to? (hint: you don't have to say yes)

